ADVANTAGES OF COOKING FOOD FOR ANIMALS.—Water in certain combination with vegetable substances may be considered as converted into a nutritious and sometimes solid food. Every one is aware that a given quantity of maize meal, or rice, or any farinaceous substance, will afford much more nutriment when boiled, than a greater quantity in an uncooked state. Count Rumford states in his essays, that for each pound of Indian meal employed in making a pudding, we may expect three pounds nine ounces of the pudding; and he says again, that three pounds of Indian, three fourths of a pound of m-das ses, and one ounce of salt, (in all, three pounds thirteen ounces of solid material, (having been mixed with five pints of boiling water and boiled six hours, produced a pudding which weighed ten pounds and one ounce. The gain of weight in rice is more considerable than that of Indian or maize meal; but in either it is so great as to demonstrate most conclusively the advantages of cooking. For experiment shows that the gain in nutritive power of the cooked food, is at least equal to the gain in weight.

That water is capable of conversion into a nutritive solid, is proved by the experiment of De Saussure in the formation of sugar from starch, by the action of sulphuric acid and thereby changed into sugar, increases in weight without uniting with sulphuric acid or any gas, we must conclude that starch sugar is nothing else than a combination of starch with water in a solid state. It is perhaps owing to this addition of water in a solid form, that sugar is so much superior to starch as a nutritive substance. Some persons may doubt that water ever becomes a solid unless when frozen; but if they will take the trouble to weigh a few pounds or ounces of quicklime, and then slack it by water, and note its increase of weight, they will have their doubts dispelled. In cooking food, such as the grains, or potatoes, it is clear the water combines with the farinaceous matter in boiling as decisively to its weight as when united with the lime. Every farmer, or housewife, can if they will take the trouble to weigh the ingredients used in making a pudding of Indian meal, satisfy themselves of this increase in weight and by observing its effects as food, test the value of the cooked material over the uncooked or uncombined one.

Reverend Impostor!!!

LOOK OUT! Look out!! Look out for an IN-FAMOUS KNAVE, by the name of Enos L. Fenwick of N.Y. who was formerly a BAPTIST PREACHER, and better known to the citizens of Monroe county as the "REV. END IMPOSTOR." This scoundrel VILLAIN who was dismissed from his pulpit, some time since, for improper conduct, is now rendering himself still more infamous, by wickedly attempting to impose not merely upon a Church, but the WHOLE COMMUNITY.

A few months ago this scoundrel wrote to the subscriber, at Boston, and wished to be appointed an agent for the sale of the Matchless Sanative. The General Agent, not knowing his depraved character, gave him an agency, and forwarded him a quantity of the medicine. This he sold, and remitted about one month and ordered another lot, which was sent to the DESIGN of his applying for an agency, or to conceal his "CLOVEN FOOT" he made a partial remittance of the sales of the last lot, only 10 days ago. Yesterday, with utter astonishment the General Agent learnt, that this REV. END DECEIVER is now industriously manufacturing with his own unholy hands, a worthless medicine, a "PURIOUS SANATIVE," which he is employing scoundrelly peddlars to palm upon the public as the GEN. UINE ORIGINAL.

Let the people of America who only bear ONE FACT in mind, there is not even a possibility of their being duped by this UNPRINCIPLED VILLAIN. The fact is this:—ENO PEDLAR, or TRAVELLING AGENT has never been employed in this country to sell the Sanative, or to leave it with any person to sell on commission. Again, every Agent of the TRUE Sanative, is appointed by the GENERAL AGENT, and receives the medicine directly FROM THE DEPOSITORY IN BOSTON.

Let all who buy the Sanative, (and almost every body does buy it,) REMEMBER THE ABOVE FACTS, and they may be sure of obtaining the genuine original compound.

N. B.—Every agent of the Matchless Sanative, is earnestly desired to give immediate alarm, by having this article inserted one month in all the papers in their towns. And that the General agent may be certain that the public are put on the look out for the impostor, he will kindly thank all his agents to forward him a copy of each paper advertised in, as soon as possible.
